LE PHOTOSOPHE, DES INSTANTS AVEC FRANK HORVAT

- By Sandra WIS, 72 minutes. In French with English subtitles.

This documentary focuses on Frank Horvat, the photographer and the man, conscientiously approaching the end of his life. It's also a meeting between a photographer and a director who goes on a philosophical journey through 70 years of photography. While browsing through different chapters of Horvat's life, this intimate documentary puts us behind the lens of an inspired and inspiring artist.

Having worked for many years as a photo-reporter, Horvat applied his reportage experience to fashion photography. His maverick approach to the genre quickly earned him international recognition. Certain that his fashion pictures would become legendary, but never one for resting on his laurels, he constantly reinvented his way of shooting. Indeed, he was one of the first photographers of his generation to switch to digital. He brings a cynical and sentimental eye to bear upon his life and work, on art and on humanity. The man and artist speaks of the passion that has guided his existence: photography.
