Eyes of the Soul is a documentary film that sheds light on the acclaimed work of Spanish photographer Cristina García Rodero, who joined the prestigious Magnum photo agency at the age of 73. The film provides an intimate look at Rodero's lifelong dedication to documenting the complexities of human life, love, and spirituality through her unique photographic lens. Director Carlota Nelson follows Rodero as she continues her celebrated career, capturing the essence and hidden depths of her subjects with a keen, insightful gaze.

SONGS AFTER A WAR

- On Sunday, May 5 at 10:45 am. Buy tickets.
- At TIFF Lightbox 1, 350 King St W, Toronto, ON M5V 3X5.
- Directed by Basilio Martín Patino, 1971, 115 minutes.

This documentary film that explores the cultural and social impact of the Spanish Civil War through the lens of popular music. Director Basilio Martín Patino delves into the way songs and folk music were used as a form of resistance, solidarity, and remembrance in the aftermath of the conflict. The film features rare archival footage and interviews that showcase how music became a powerful tool for both the Republican and Nationalist sides to express their ideologies, mourn their losses, and maintain a sense of identity during the tumultuous post-war period. Patino examines how certain songs and performers were suppressed or appropriated by the Franco regime, while others continued to be passed down as part of Spain's cultural heritage.

Made in Spain Shorts Program

Onboard a ferry, a series of passengers cross from one riverbank to the other. Some wrap themselves in silence or contemplate the scenery. The journey seems to expand, the destination is postponed, the magnitude of space is blurred. Motion itself is perhaps the only certainty.

BACK TO RIAÑO

- Directed by Miriam Matín, 2023, 15 minutes.
- At Scotiabank Theatre Toronto, 259 Richmond St W, Toronto, ON M5V 3M6.
- Buy tickets.

Moving images shot from the ground against moving images shot from the sky. The words of women, men and children against official speeches. People who don't want to move, "just like the pine tree by the riverbank." A valley turned into a reservoir. The class struggle lies underground ... and underwater.

AITANA

- Directed by Marina Alberti, 2024, 19 minutes.
- At Scotiabank Theatre Toronto, 259 Richmond St W, Toronto, ON M5V 3M6.
- Watch trailer and buy tickets.

Marina is haunted by the idea that she may lose her memory. Her grandmother suffered memory loss and now her mother Aitana, daughter of the writer María Teresa León and the poet Rafael Alberti, seems to be losing hers as well. In the silence of the night, the ghosts of the family's past, the history of a country, return.

SALT COVERS ALL

- Directed by Joana Moya, 18 minutes.
- At Scotiabank Theatre Toronto, 259 Richmond St W, Toronto, ON M5V 3M6.
